Part One – Freedom of Information and Environmental Information Regulations Policy

1 Introduction & Purpose

The Freedom of Information Act (2000) (“the Act”) and Environmental Information Regulations (2004) (EIR) place an obligation on public authorities to make available to anyone information that is held by those public authorities. Access to information can be made through individuals or organisations requesting specific information or by accessing information made available by the CCG through the Publication Scheme which is part of the CCG website.

The CCG supports the principle of openness being the norm in public life. The CCG also supports an individual’s right to privacy and confidentiality and this policy does not overturn the common law duty of confidentiality or statutory provisions that prevent disclosure of personal information. The release of such information will be managed under the Data Protection Act 2018.

This policy sets out how the CCG will meet its obligations in ensuring compliance with the Act.

The Freedom of Information Act (2000) was introduced as part of the Government’s commitment to greater openness and transparency within the public sector.

The Act replaces the non-statutory Code of Practice on Openness in the NHS. The Act enables members of the public to scrutinise the decisions of public authorities and ensure that services are delivered efficiently and accordingly.

The Environmental Information Regulations (2004) covers categories of public information related to the environment, such as emissions, waste disposal etc. The regulations are similar to those in FOI but there is greater expectation of disclosure as the number of exemptions is less.

2 Policy Statement, Aims and Objectives

2.1 The purpose of this policy is to:

- Ensure all requests for information are dealt with consistently and to a high standard.
- Ensure that the CCG is complying with relevant regulations, laws and guidance.
- Ensure all staff is aware of their responsibilities to FOI and EIR, whether that is directing a request or providing a timely response.
- Ensure that statutory timescales are met.

- Ensure the CCG meets its obligations in developing and improving its Publication Scheme.

2.2 The principles of the Act include:

- Publish and maintain a publication scheme, available on the CCG's website (and hard copy on request).
- A general right to request and access all recorded information held by the CCG, subject to exemptions and conditions laid out in the Act.
- There are a total of 23 exemptions (absolute and qualified), within the Act which where applicable would mean certain information is not released or published.
- Public authorities are expected to respond to FOI requests within 20 working days.
- Allows for a Fee Notice to be issued in cases where to fulfil the request would exceed 18 workings hours as laid out in the Act. Issuing of a Fees Notice must be made within 20 working days.
- A duty to advise and assist those making or wanting to make a request.
- To be considered a request under the Act, it must be received in writing. The request doesn't have to explicitly refer to the Act or be addressed to the FOI Lead. It must include the requester's name, correspondence address and describe the information being requested.
- The Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) oversees implementation and compliance with the Act and associated regulations.

Part Two - Standard Operating Procedures – Freedom of Information

1 Background

- 1.1 The Freedom of Information Act (2000) (“the Act”) and Environmental Information Regulations (2004) (EIR) place an obligation on public authorities to make available to anyone information that is held by those public authorities. Access to information can be made through individuals or organisations requesting specific information or by accessing information made available by the CCG through the Publication Scheme which is part of the CCG website.
- 1.2 The purpose of this document is to provide a step by step guide to the management of incoming Freedom of Information (FOI) requests. As a publically funded body we are bound by the Freedom of Information Act (2000) to publish certain information (covered under the Publication Scheme) and action information requests from the public.

2 Principles

2.1 Who can make a FOI request?

Anyone can make a request. Requests can be made by an individual, charity, media, company etc. All requests will be treated in the same manner regardless of who makes the request.

2.2 When is a request a FOI?

For a request to be considered a FOI, it needs to be received in writing. The request doesn't have to explicitly refer to the Act and doesn't have to be addressed to the FOI Lead.

To be a valid request, it must include requester's real name, correspondence address and detail the information being requested. If the CCG receives a request that doesn't meet the criteria, the CCG will contact the requester, explain the missing detail and ask them to resubmit. This can be done by the member of staff who receives the request or by the FOI team.

2.3 What information do we need to provide?

Any information created by a public authority is covered under the Act; this includes but is not limited to reports, drafts, emails, recorded film.

2.4 What if we don't have the information?

The Act covers the information we hold. We are not expected to create new information to meet a request. If the information being requested is not held by us, it's good practice to advise the requester of who to contact if known. If we don't hold the information we need to inform the requestor in writing as soon as is possible. See Appendix B for useful contact details.

2.5 Are there any exemptions to the information we provide?

Yes, a list of exemptions can be found in Appendix A.

2.6 When do we need to respond to a request?

The legal deadline for responding to a request is 20 working days. The clock starts the day the request is received. For requests received on a Saturday/Sunday the first working day is Monday). Good practice is to respond as soon as is practical. The deadline cannot be extended. However if it is not clear what information is being asked for, we have a duty to contact the requester as soon as possible and seek clarification. At this point the clock is stopped until required clarification is received.

2.7 Can we charge for information?

Charges can be made and these would normally be to cover cost of communication i.e. photocopying, printing, postage, conversion of information etc. A fees notice should be issued to the requester detailing the charges. At this point the clock stops on the 20 working day deadline and is restarted once payment is received. Our Fee Schedule is available within our publication scheme.

2.8 Can we refuse a request?

Yes. However in refusing a request we need to be certain of the reasons for refusal. A request can be refused under the following circumstances:

- The request is vexatious

- Would be disruptive to respond and serves no benefit to public interest.
- It would take too much time or cost too much to respond
 - The time needed to pull together and/or redact information would exceed 18 hours or the £450 cost. This is in line with the Freedom of Information \(Appropriate Limit and Fees\) Regulations 2004.
- The request is the same as a previous request from the same requester
 - If a response has already been provided and the same (or very similar) request comes in from the same requester

3 Publication Scheme

3.1 The publication scheme sets out our commitment to proactively make available and publish information. There are seven classes of information we need to provide:

1. Who we are and what we do
2. What we spend and how we spend it
3. Our priorities and how we are doing
4. How we make decisions
5. Our policies and procedures
6. Lists and registers
7. The services we offer

3.2 Our publication scheme can be accessed here:

<http://www.sheffieldccg.nhs.uk/about-us/publications-scheme.htm>

The Publication Scheme should be reviewed annually to ensure that the links work and the information being provided is relevant. Where appropriate staff should inform the FOI Lead of any misinformation or issues arising from the Publication Scheme.

4 Process for day to day management of FOI

4.1 Request received

FOI requests are normally received via the mailbox (sheccg.foi@nhs.net). For requests which are received via post these need to be date stamped upon receipt, scanned and stored electronically.

4.2 Acknowledge

Send an acknowledgement to the requester within two days of receipt. Currently an automatic acknowledgement email is sent upon receipt.

4.3 Log

FOI requests are recorded within a spreadsheet, all requests must be logged here. The following details are recorded as a minimum: date received (20 working day clock starts from this date), nature of request, requester name and email, operational lead (responsible for drafting a response, along with date sent). Deadline dates are automatically calculated.

Each request is given a unique reference number.

4.4 Inform

Once logged forward the request to the relevant operational lead(s) for response (see Appendix B for the Scheme of Delegation). Only send details of the request not the requester's details. Where possible the request should be sent to operational lead(s) on the day of receipt or at the very least within two working days.

The CCG has a statutory duty to respond to all FOI requests within 20 working days. To enable the CCG to meet the target an internal deadline of 10 working days (from the date received) should be given to the operational lead(s).

Staff have a responsibility to respond to requests for information from the FOI Lead and where they are unable to provide the information or are the wrong person, they must inform the FOI Lead within two working days.

The FOI team will update the spreadsheet with details of who provided the response, this will help to accurately direct future requests of similar natures.

4.5 Response received

Operational Leads to provide the FOI Lead with an appropriate response by the given deadline. The FOI Lead will add returned responses and requester contact details to the letter template, and then seek approval from the appropriate Director before sending on to the requester. Directors can expect up to three days to receive and approve responses.

Update the spreadsheet with details of when the response was sent.

5 Escalation Process for late FOI responses / approvals

- 5.1 Working to an internal deadline of 10 working days allows additional time to chase for responses / approvals where necessary.

5.2 Directors and Deputy Directors will receive a weekly update detailing FOI requests which are due within the next 15 working days. Please note where there are no requests, an update is not sent.

For example:

FOI Reference	Description	Internal working deadline response	1020 day working for day deadline	Status (waiting clarification/ waiting response/ waiting approval)	Comments
0XXXFOI1718 (breached)	XXXX	02/08/2016	16/08/2016	Response	Request was sent to xxxx on xxxx

5.3 Directors and Deputy Directors are responsible for ensuring that staff in their directorates respond in a timely manner.

6 Internal Review

6.1 There will be occasions where the response that we have given is not accepted by the requester. Within the legislation it is not compulsory to have an internal review process. However it is good practice to have a review process in place as this provides the CCG with the opportunity to review its response, and provides an alternative to the requester taking their complaint straight to the Information Commissioner’s Office. When this happens the CCG has a duty to review the request and response.

6.2 The process for the review as per ICO Guidance:

a) Review should be conducted by someone not involved with the request originally and preferably by a more senior member of staff, this would usually be a Director. The reviewer will be appointed by the Chief Nurse based on the nature of the FOI request and expertise.

b) Reviewer should make a fresh decision not just a review of the original decision. It should be treated as a new request; however the reviewer should have access to all correspondence and internal discussion on the original response. The reviewer should document reasons for their decisions.

The FOI Lead is responsible for ensuring that reviewers are provided with all relevant documentation and correspondence relating to the FOI request along with any other supporting guidance on conducting internal reviews.

Although there is no legal timeframe to complete the review the ICO recommends a timeframe of 20 working days.

In cases where we have refused a request and applied an exemption the reviewer will need to determine whether the exemption has been applied correctly.

The CCG will act upon requests for an internal review, providing the request is made within 40 working days of the response being sent.

7 Complaints to the Information Commissioner's Office

7.1 The ICO will investigate complaints made to it only after internal review processes have been exhausted. There are a number of instances when the ICO will investigate a complaint made by a requester. These include (but not exhaustive):

- The response has been received outside of the specified timescale of 20 working days;
- Not providing information without explanation;
- Inappropriate use of exemptions.

7.2 The outcome of ICO decision will either be:

- a. An Enforcement Notice – This is a formal notice which will require the organisation to take action.
- b. An Information Notice – This requires the organisation to provide information as detailed in the notice.
- c. A Decision Notice – This is an outline of the ICO's decision following the investigation into a complaint.
- d. Practice Recommendation – Not enforceable but a recommendation on what the organisation needs to do to ensure conformity with the FOI Act.
- e. Prosecution – In the unlikely event that we have failed to comply with any sanctions or breached the FOI Act/ EIR to a serious extent.

8 Reports

The FOI Lead is responsible for ensuring accurate records of FOI requests and responses and to produce a quarterly report for the Governing Body Sub-Committee. Report to detail:

- Performance against 20 working day response standard.
- Themes and trends based on responsible directorates and origin of the request.
- Acknowledge late responses and highlight any areas of concern
- Number of internal reviews requested/ complaints to the Information Commissioners Office.
