Introduction

Back to CONTENTS

Below is a short list of resources of APPS, web links, videos, animation, role models, inspirational speakers etc.

These are included to help provide advice, support and encouragement to people with autism and their parents, carers, professionals and those interested in autism.

Some resources are provided in relation to COVID-19 also.

There are many, many more resources available online and elsewhere for you to find and review. As one example of a short YouTube video I found by accident, almost, is this ;

"Easy-to-Use Calming Strategies for Autism"

by Ryan Judd (MA, MTC Board Certified Music Therapist), a music therapist. His YouTube channel is here.

Autism Alert Cards

Get a South Yorkshire Police Autism Alert Cards – see below.

If anyone has a family member, friend or contact who may benefit from an Autism alert card please share the below email address. Autism_Alert_Card@southyorks.pnn.police.uk.

The cards are Free, credit card sized and let blue-light staff and partner agencies know that the card holder is either on the autism spectrum or has a learning disability and may need extra support.

The cards are designed

- to reduce anxiety in stressful situations,
- aid understanding
- enable the card carrier feel more comfortable in stressful or frightening situations.
- Help when the card holder is experiencing a meltdown by providing contact details

Anyone with a formal autism diagnosis or awaiting diagnosis can apply for an autism alert card. There is no age limit on this.
